Our uniqueness comes from our top-quality products

We are reliable supplier of top-quality milled maize products because we invest in the best production equipment and latest technologies and we import the finest corn in the global market. The mill depends on the Swiss technology supplied by Bühler Company. At Harvest Maize Mill all production processes are fully automatic powered by Bühler WinCos automation system. Bühler Sortex machine that uses the optical sorting enables efficient removal of stones and other impurities. The mill automatically degerminates corn and then the process of sifting takes place depending on the granulation size.
